Max Spaniel: Funny Lunch

Written by David Catrow

Booktalk!

"My name is Max. I am not a dog. I am a great chef." So begins the hilarious story of one of the funniest dogs you'll ever meet. He knows that to be great, he must look great. After trying on a pirate hat, cowboy hat, top hat, and even a ship, he finds the perfect tall, white chef's hat.

Now it is time to make the special of the day: PIZZA PIE. After rolling, patting, and tossing the dough, it is ready for the oven. Max's customers are hungry. Tummies are growling. Some want chili, others want hot dogs. While waiting for the food to cook, Max sings, dances, and even does a little magic.

And then comes the biggest lunch order ever ... 100 pizzas with everything – to go! How can he and his one helper do it? Will he make his customers happy? Max is one clever chef who has the perfect solution.

Best for ages 5-8
