Spiders

Booktalk!

If she were interested, and I bet she would be, Charlotte A. Cavatica, the world's most famous arachnid, would find dozens of new friends in the pages of this glorious book. It's chock-full of fascinating, full-color, up-close-and-personal, incredibly detailed, big, small, green, yellow, smooth, hairy, hunting, bird-eating, fish-catching, you name it, you'll see it, spiders. Wow!

Nic Bishop searched for spiders in several states, raised them in his studio, spent hours gazing at them through his camera lens, and even took some on vacation with him! The results? Nothing short of – or less than – spiderlicious!

Best for first grade and up
