Booktalk!

A star wrestler who can't read.

A stellar student who can't walk.

Autumn is trapped in her head; Adonis is trapped in his chair. She thinks they'd be perfect together, but he thinks she couldn't be more wrong. She asks him questions he doesn't want to answer, makes him wonder things he wishes he didn't.

Yet he can't stop thinking about her. It's not love; it's confusion. And he's guarded, she can tell. But is he protecting his heart or hiding something?

Best for ages 10–14
