The royal family is dead and a new leader must be chosen. A mysterious and evil nobleman, Conner, devises a plan. He visits an orphanage and selects four boys to compete for the role of the long-lost prince, who was presumed dead, lost at sea.

Sage, one of the orphans, questions Conner's plan and motive. If Sage is to survive, he must outsmart Conner and the other boys. But Sage holds a deep secret, one that will either save or destroy him.
