Booktalk!

A pool, a lie, a secret. Hatred.

These are all in the air in Hanging Moss, Mississippi, in the summer of 1964. When Glory and her best friend, Frankie, see a “Closed for Repairs” sign on the locked community pool, they are shocked and angry. There is nothing to repair – why would anyone close the pool in the sizzling summer heat?

Friendship and kinship are tested, small and large lies told, and revealed secrets will ruin more than just the summer. But Glory knows the truth and begins to understand what freedom really means.

Best for ages 8–12
