THE CLOCKWORK THREE

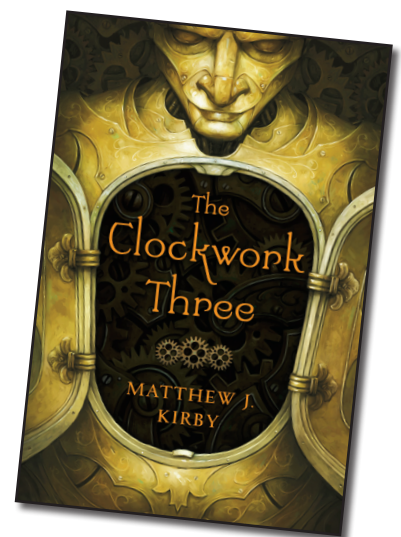

Written by Matthew J. Kirby

Booktalk!

A treasure, a magical green violin, and an automaton – these are the things that bring together Hannah, Frederick, and Giuseppe like gears in a clock.

Twelve-year-old Hannah supports her family by working as a maid in a grand hotel her father helped build. Frederick, an orphan, is an apprentice clockmaker. Giuseppe plays the violin on street corners, hoping to save money to return to his family in Italy. His ruthless boss takes almost every penny he earns.

But Hannah learns of a treasure that is buried in the hotel that will save her family, and the fortune of all three will depend on their wits, skills, and luck ... and perhaps a little help from a golem and a tiger.

Best for ages 10–14
