

It's simple. All you have to do is display teacher's wishes at your Scholastic Book Fair — and let shoppers do the rest!

Here's How Classroom Wish List Works:

- 1 Teachers select which books they'd like for their classrooms.
- 2 You display their wishes at the Book Fair.
- 3 Shoppers buy books (or Gift Certificates) for their children's teachers.

Your Role

Host a Sneak Peek just for faculty members so they can choose books for their classrooms.

Tell parents. Include Classroom Wish List information in the promotion letter sent home one week before your Book Fair. (See back cover.)

Teacher's Role

Teachers select books they'd like for their classrooms by filling out Book Donation Cards and Classroom Book Wishes form (noting where the books are located in the Book Fair).

Teachers place completed cards inside the card pockets on the Classroom Wish List display board (or return cards to the chairperson to do so).

Shopper's Role

Shoppers find their child's teacher on the Classroom Wish List display board.

They remove a Book Donation Card or Gift Certificate from the teacher's card pocket, then retrieve the requested book from the Book Fair and proceed to the cashier.

The shopper fills out a bookplate and places it inside the book. Then he or she gives it to the cashier, who collects books and Gift Certificates for distribution to participating teachers.

Setting Up and Displaying Your Classroom Wish List

- 1 Choose a display board. Be creative! It can be a bulletin board, a poster board, or a science display board.

- 2 New Poster! Place the display board poster (found in this booklet) onto the top center of your display board.

How To:

Prepare for Your Faculty Sneak Peek

Reproduce or download Book Donation Cards and Gift Certificates for every teacher.

Label Book Fair tables, displays, and cases (pg.5) so teachers can list the locations of each of their selected books.

Prepare for Your Book Fair

Stock your cash register area with bookplates.

Make your Classroom Wish List display easy to spot. Position it in a prominent place at the Book Fair — possibly near food or guessing games.

Make More Card Pockets

Take sealed #10 business envelopes, cut them in half, and attach them to your display board.

You'll find reproducibles in this booklet and online. Reference your Ideas Guide for online tools.
