by Katie Cicatelli-Kuc

Booktalk!

Airports and flying don't seem so scary to Oliver when he learns that the girl who smiled at him in security is on his flight. Oliver finds out her name is Flora, and she is also flying home to New York. When they land for a flight change, passengers are told that they could have been infected with an unknown virus. Anyone running a fever must be closely monitored! So, why does Flora suddenly fake a fever and kiss Oliver? Together they must be immediately transported to a hospital and be quarantined for a month!
