

How to Prevent House Fires

By: Bailey

Dear America,

This week has been fire prevention week. There are many things you can do to prevent a house fire. Here are three ways.

One way to prevent a fire is to never leave a stove on and walk away. If you did and forgot about what you're cooking, it could get too hot and catch on fire. Another way is to keep things that can burn three feet away from a heater. The heater would blow hot air on the object that can catch on fire, and make it burn. The last way is to never play with lighters. They are the most dangerous way because they are actually meant to light things, but are definitely not toys.

These rules are important. They should never be broken. If you follow these easy rules it will help a lot in preventing a house fire.

Sincerely,

Bailey
