

A Great Way to Add Digital Photography to Your Classroom...

Provide a new and innovative way to improve your students' language arts skills and encourage creative expression. You can use photos to:

- illustrate and reinforce academic concepts
- stimulate visual learning in the classroom
- document student progress and achievements
- safely share classroom activities with students and parents
- create Photo Books for your classroom library

FYI:
Shutterfly
uses password
protection
for safe
Internet use.

Shutterfly is helping to facilitate visual learning by offering free photo storage and sharing.

Here's how to get started:

- Visit www.shutterfly.com/teachreg.
- Sign up for your free account.
- Enter your promotion codes for your special offers.
- Create your own photo-sharing Web address, such as MsSmith.shutterfly.com, with Shutterfly Collections at www.shutterfly.com/collections.
- Make sure to password-protect your Collection so that you and parents can feel secure about adding students' photos online. You will be prompted to add an optional password when you create your Collection.
- If you wish, you can allow parents to add their own photos or comments to your Collection.

The screenshot shows the 'Create your collection' page on Shutterfly. At the top, there are navigation links: 'Add pictures', 'View & enhance', 'Share online', 'Order prints', and 'Shutterfly Store'. The main heading is 'Collections | Create your collection'. Below this, there are three numbered steps:

- 1 Choose a web address and title for your Collection
Fields with an asterisk (*) are required.
Web address: *
Enter 4-32 characters. Use letters and numbers only. Spaces and punctuation are not allowed.
Title: *
Description:
Character count: 202
- 2 Set options for your Collection
 Allow visitors to add pictures or albums to this Collection
 Allow visitors to add comments
 Email me when visitors add pictures or comments
- 3 Choose a password for your Collection (optional)
To protect your pictures, you may choose a password that all visitors will need to enter before they can view your Collection.
If you don't want a password, leave this field blank.
Password:
NOTE: Collection passwords are case sensitive.

At the bottom right, there is a 'Create now' button. At the bottom left, there is a 'TRUSTe' logo and a copyright notice: '© Copyright Shutterfly 1999-2006. All rights reserved.'

Once you've created your account and classroom Collection, you can add photos, share your pictures, and create unique learning tools.

Add Photos

- Shutterfly makes it easy to add photos to your Collection directly from your computer at www.shutterfly.com/add.
- Then, organize photos in your Collection to highlight events or lessons.
- Add to, delete, or change the order of the albums in your Collection at any time.

Share Your Pictures

- You can easily create and save one list that includes all the e-mail addresses of your students' parents at www.shutterfly.com/creategroup.
- Each time you add more photos, invite parents to view them. A wonderful way to reinforce learning at home and stimulate family discussion is to ask parents to add photos or comments as they view the pictures.
- Remember, with Shutterfly's password protection, you can feel secure that only parents can view your Collection.

Create Unique Learning Tools

- To see all the ways Shutterfly allows you to be creative with your classroom photos, visit www.shutterfly.com/inschool.
- Create Photo Books, Calendars, Greeting Cards, and more, and use Shutterfly's promotion codes for great savings.
- Parents can also print photos from the Collection by saving them to their own free Shutterfly account.
