

Frankie's Facts

Words that sound the same but have different spellings and meanings are called homophones, or sound-alike words.

Now we are sailing to a castle to look for treasure. What will we find before we get there? Sound-alike words! Look at the words in the word box and the words beneath the fish. Say each one out loud. Draw a line between the words that sound alike.

sea sail sun hole knot tail

