THE SECRET FORMULA

"Ryan—where are you going?" I asked.

He grinned at me. "To the basement. You chicken, Maria?" He started down the stairs. Ryan is always showing off. Always doing crazy things to show me how brave he is.

"But you know Uncle Max told us not to go down here," I said, following him. "His secret lab is down here. He told us to stay away."

Ryan led the way to Uncle Max's lab table. It was cluttered with all kinds of jars, tubes, beakers, and electric machines.

Ryan picked up a brown bottle. It had a label on it. The label read: Secret Formula.

"I'm totally thirsty," Ryan said. "Let's check this out."

"Are you insane?" I cried. "Put that down."

I thought he was joking. But he wasn't. Ryan took a long drink from the bottle. "Mmmmmm. Refreshing," he said.

But then he started to change. I stared at him in horror. "No!" I screamed, "No! I don't believe it!"
