

As kids learn more about what their communities need, have them use the following sample letters to share their reflections with their community, city council representative, and mayor.

Explain to your group that their ideas and innovations are important! Review the following letter templates with your groups, then tell them they will share their thoughts with members of the community. When kids are ready to write their letters, have them download the Word doc templates so they can fill in the blanks with their own words. To send, research the contact information of your local newspaper/magazine editor, city council representative, and/or mayor, then mail or email the letters on their behalf. As residents of their community, their ideas need to be heard!
