

Crafting Well-Built Sentences

Revise this example:

Exercise is good for you. Exercise gives you energy. Exercise is a way to work off stress. Exercise can make your body stronger. Everyone should exercise.

Craft well-built sentences to create a paragraph that flows.

Think ABOUT

- Do my sentences begin in different ways?
- Are my sentences different lengths?
- Are my sentences built with sturdy construction?
- Have I used transitions (but, and, so) to connect parts of sentences?

See the sample response, page 189.