

KRISTY'S FLASHLIGHT TAG

What better way to play on a warm summer's night? This is the ultimate summer game! Gather all your brothers, sisters, friends and neighbors because you need at least 4 people to have a good game.

STEP 1: To start, each player needs a flashlight.

STEP 2: One player is chosen to be it, or the tagger. (Most people don't want to be it so we usually throw all of our flashlights in a pile. Then, someone closes their eyes and grabs one - whoever owns that flashlight is it!)

STEP 3: The tagger stands at an agreed-upon starting place and counts out loud to 60 while the other players run and hide. (Just some advice: turn off your flashlights unless absolutely necessary; otherwise, the tagger can easily find your hiding place!)

STEP 4: When the tagger finishes counting, s/he finds and tags the other players using the flashlight beam. (If you are up for a challenge, you can make a rule that the tagger has to actually tag the other players, but you should make that clear before you start.)

STEP 5: The first player tagged will be it in the next round. But remember, the game is not over until all of the players are tagged.

NOTE: Dress in Black!
