

MATORAN

The Matoran of Mata Nui live in six villages, called koro. The villages are spread out in different regions of Mata Nui, and they all are distinct and have very different kinds of buildings as well as customs. Although the Matoran are very loyal to their native villages, all Matoran share a common dream: to defeat Makuta and live in a land of peace and beauty.

THE SECRETS OF THE TURAGA

Since the Toa arrived on Mata Nui, the Turaga have been there to provide them with important information. The Toa learned about the Kanohi masks and the Bohrok swarms from the Turaga, and they have come to rely on the wisdom of the village elders.

But often it seems that the Turaga know more than they are telling. There are caverns that they have forbidden any Matoran to enter, but they will not say why. Some Toa Nuva have questioned why they were not told about the Bohrok before the swarms appeared on the island. It may be that the Turaga keep many more secrets than anyone knows. . . .
