

The Magic Compass: Our Community

By Julia Lindsey

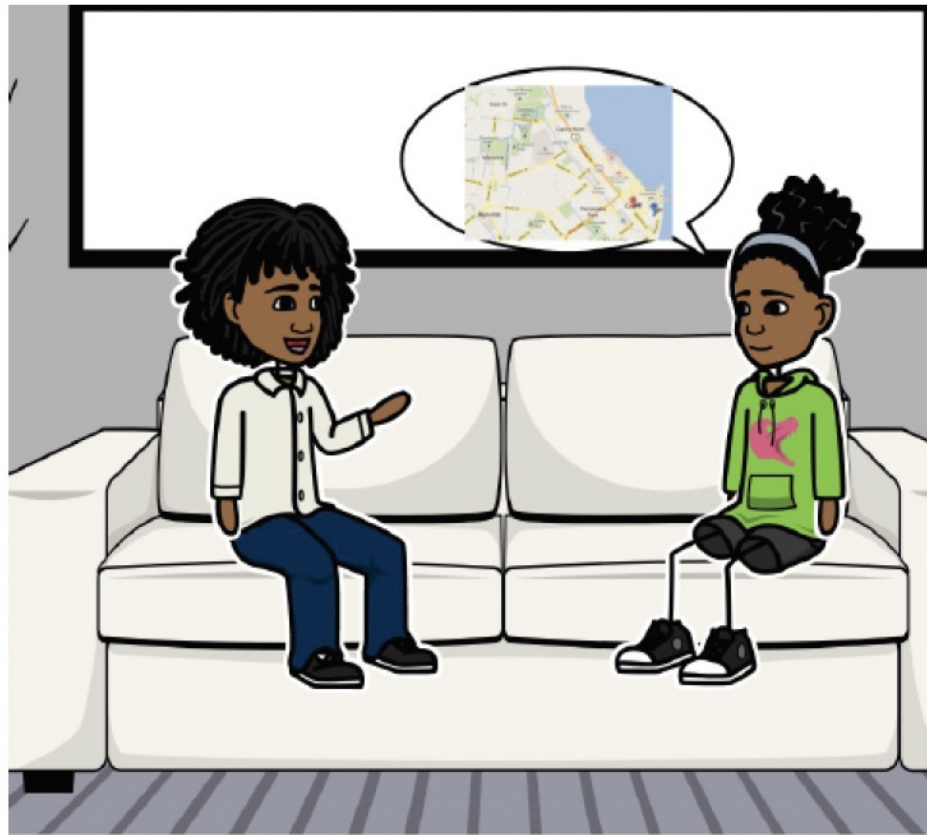

“Granddad is coming to visit this weekend,” says Mom.

“Yay!” say Carlos and Lili.

“Granddad wants to have a tour of our community. Can you show him around?” asks Mom.

“Yes, we can!” say Carlos and Lili.

“How will we make sure to show Granddad all the cool things in our community?” asks Carlos.

“I think we should make a map,” says Lili,
“We can put all the cool things on our map so we do not forget what to show Granddad.”

Carlos and Lili get a paper and some markers.

“First, let’s put our home,” says Carlos.

Lili draws a street with one home. She writes, “Our home.”

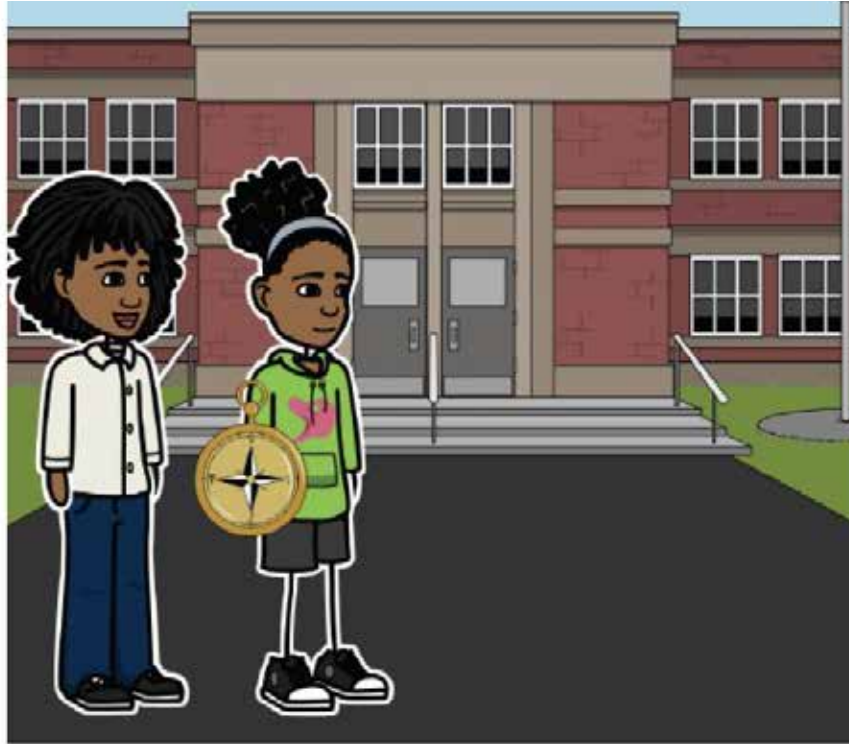

“What else?” asks Lili.

“Let’s ask the compass,” says Carlos. “Magic compass, what else is cool in our community?”

The compass starts spinning! Then, it points!

Lili and Carlos follow the compass outside and down the street to the park.
“Let’s put the park on the map!” says Carlos.
Lili draws the park and writes, “Park.”
The compass starts spinning again! Then, it points!

Lili and Carlos follow the compass to the school.

"Let's put the school on the map!" says Carlos.

Lili draws the school and writes, "School."
The compass starts spinning again! Then, it points!

Lili and Carlos follow the compass down the street to the store.

"Let's put the store on the map!" says Carlos.

Lili draws the store and writes, "Pool."

The compass starts spinning one more time!

Then, it points!

Lili and Carlos follow the compass back to their home.

There is a car outside. Granddad gets out of the car!

“Hi Granddad! Welcome to our community!” says Carlos.

“We cannot wait to show you around!” says Lili.
