You are a kid at your school, which makes you an expert on your school. You've been reading about Underwater World with Bob and have a great idea for his show! You want to learn more about schools of fish so you can compare and contrast them with schools for kids. You've decided to use a graphic organizer to arrange facts and details about schools for kids so that Bob can do the same for schools of fish! Brilliant! You'll model for Bob so that he can organize his thoughts for his show. There's probably a future in showbiz for you....
