R.A.F.T.S. PROMPT

You are Ruby, from The Little Red Fort. You recently built a super-cool fort. When your brothers refused to help, you were so disappointed. But when they realized they couldn't play in the fort because they didn't do any work, they changed their attitude. They painted, built a mailbox, planted flowers, and helped make your fort even more special. You want to make a really heartfelt card to give your brothers to remember what they did and to let them know how their change in attitude made you feel. Write a note to your brothers to tell the story of what happened from your perspective. Describe the changes you noticed in them and how it made you feel when they helped you with your fort. Don't forget to ask them to help out with your next awesome project: a swing!
