R.A.F.T.S. PROMPT

You are...you! You have big plans for what you will do when you grow up. You know you can help do something big and important for the world, such as cure a disease, end hunger, or reverse global warming. Some people have made fun of you for having such big goals that seem impossible. But you've never listened to those voices very much. In a postcard to your future self, state clearly your opinion on what you know you can do with your life, why it might be hard, and how you know you will succeed.

Role: You!

Audience: Your future self

Format: Postcard

Topic: What you want to do with your life
