

Teacher Resource
R.A.F.T.S. for Write-On Page 3

R.A.F.T.S. PROMPT

You are the captain of the Valid Argument Squad in Logic Land. It has come to your attention that many of the health documents that squad members write are filled with hasty generalizations such as “When I run after my dog, I get winded; therefore, I should never run,” or “After my sister ate broccoli her nose started to itch; therefore, broccoli makes your nose itch.” In a proclamation to your squad, convince them not to use hasty generalizations when they write or speak.

Role: Captain of the Valid Argument Squad in Logic Land

Audience: Squad members

Format: Proclamation

Topic: Why the squad members should not use hasty generalizations

Strong Verb: convince