You are either Felipe or Claudette. In a backyard conversation, tell the other pet how you plan to thank Mrs. Barrett for adopting you. Maybe you will apologize for some of the more annoying things that you do. Maybe you will just purr (or bark) a lot to show your appreciation. Maybe you will relate how lonely the two of you were without each other and how happy you are that you are back together. Tell what you are planning for Mrs. Barrett. Be sure to use third person (he/she/it/they) to relate information and several lines of dialogue (first person: I/we) to add interest and perspective to your story's plot.
