R.A.F.T.S. PROMPT

You are Mark Teague, noted children's book author. Your first book about Felipe and Claudette was such a hit, you've decided to write another book about them, but in a different genre and in a whole different setting. However, new books take a great deal of organizing and a lot of thinking. Create an outline and summary for your next book so the reader will have a good idea about the new story and especially the setting: where and when your story will take place.
