R.A.F.T.S. PROMPT

You are the brain. In a speech you give to the other parts of the body, explain why you are a really big deal. Focus specifically on how you control thoughts, feelings, and memories, using examples and details that will let your audience know how far ranging and critical your role is in the everyday life of a human. (Remember, this is an explanation piece using facts and details, not an opinion piece that is intended to change a point of view.)

Role: The brain

Audience: Other parts of the body

Format: Speech

Topic: How you control thoughts, feelings, and memories

Strong Verb: explain
