You are the five senses. You went to dinner last night and sampled a new, fabulous food you really like a lot. In a group chat, react to it through the perspective of each sense: taste, touch, sight, smell, and sound. Be sure to use the richest possible vocabulary for your descriptions that will relay to the other senses just how appealing you found the new food to be. (Draw icons to represent each sense as it speaks up.)

Role: The five senses

Audience: Each of the other senses

Format: Group chat

Topic: How much each individual sense enjoyed a new food

Strong Verb: react
