

Go-Along Page 2

And So They Grow

Part 1 Use time clues to help you put the events in order by placing the letter in the left column next to the correct number in the right column.

Big Cat Growth	Cubs Grow Events in Order by Number
a. In two or three weeks, the cubs become active but rely on mother's milk for food.	1.
b. Lion cubs are introduced to the pride at about two months old; they help protect the young lions.	2.
c. Cubs are born blind and cannot see for the first one or two weeks.	3.
d. By two months, the cubs eat meat their mother brings.	4.
e. Playing develops the skills and coordination they will need to catch prey later.	5.
f. Cubs begin to chase small animals and share the mother's kill.	6.
g. The mother will move the cubs many times and carry them to a new den if she thinks they are in danger.	7.
h. Big-cat mother finds a safe place for a den: rocky cave, hollow log, bushes, tall grasses, or secret high shelf on a mountain cliff.	8.
i. Most cubs will be one to two years old before they are ready to leave their mother.	9.
j. Cubs play near the den, practicing their pouncing.	10.

Part 2 Are there any facts and details listed on this page that you'd like to know more about? If so, where might you go to find this information?

---

---

---

---