R.A.F.T.S. PROMPT

You are Ralph. Having just had a rotten day, you're ready for something good! A brilliant idea pops into your head: You want to paint your room your very favorite color! But you need to convince Mom that this is a good idea, too. Mom loves greeting cards, so you're going to make one with a picture of what your room will look like on the front of the card and the reasons it's such a good idea on the back. Your room will look so good in this new color!
