

April Fool's Day at the Zoo

Mad Libs for Kids

There has been a silly mix-up at the zoo. The _____ plural animal were swimming in the penguin enclosure. _____ person's name the polar bear was _____ in the air. When I visited verb ending in -ing

the _____ exhibit, they were all _____ and animal color

_____. At the petting zoo, _____ goats started verb ending in -ing number _____ at me. We stopped at the concession stand verb ending in -ing

to buy a/an _____ and a/an _____ and a _____ took food food animal our order. On our way to the exit, I asked mom if we could visit my favorite animal. But, when we got to the _____ animal house, the sign said they had left on a vacation to

_____. I forgot today was April Fool's Day. I guess place

the animals really played a trick on me.
