A long time ago in a galaxy far, far away. . . .

Victor Starspeeder has journeyed day and night, battling and defeating evil droids along the way. He is nearly at his destination—the very pinnacle of the mountain! It has been a journey of self-discovery and triumph over adversity. But there is just one last obstacle in his way—the last year of school! This Jedi Master reaches for his lightsaber and lights up the night sky.

Hexaday

I have no idea how I am going to face everyone back at school. I know that all of the kids have been talking about me behind my back. I mean, I see what they've been posting to Stagram! Lots of shady comments coming from some of my classmates. I'd like to think if the tables were turned, I'd be more understanding, but I dunno. A Sith came to our school because of me. My dad, the one that I thought died a hero's death, turned out not to be dead and to be a total Sith. Awkward, right? And sure, I helped defeat him along with my friends, but I can't blame them for being a bit mad at me. I mean, had I stayed at my old school, nobody at the Coruscant campus would have to have dealt with it. And even though my sister, Christina, was working with Yoda to bring pops to justice, she took a hit from kids who thought she was a Sith herself. So, there's like this cloud hanging over my head.

There are some people who still blame me for getting Zachary O'Halleran expelled. Even when that dude was a total creep and headed to the dark side himself, everyone knew good ol' Zach as this fun-loving popular kid.

Look, I mess up sometimes, I'll admit it. I don't mean to. But now when I misstep, I'm afraid people are going to think the worst of me. I tried to save the school, and people are treating me like I'm the problem. With Christina graduated and off on her apprenticeship, I'll be stuck at Jedi Academy all on my own—with nobody to look after me. The son of a Sith . . .

SWEEPING CHANGES AT JEDI ACADEMY

It is with great enthusiasm that the Jedi Academy administration announces measures that will keep the student population safe. As reported earlier, a Sith made it onto campus at the very end of the last academic year. Many parents voiced outrage over such a development. Principal Mar has brought onto the staff Commander ZC-04. Commander ZC-04 will lead a new group of security droids who will be tasked with patrolling the hallways and perimeter of the school at all hours of the day. All students must be in their bunks by 21:00. There will be absolutely no lenience on this time frame. It is imperative that we secure all students safely in their bunks at the designated time.

ASK MS. CATARA!

Dear Ms. Catara,

I have a friend who has been a bit distant this summer. I think that maybe he thinks that I will think less of him because he has a parent who was up to some bad things. How do I let my friend know that he is still cool with me?

Sincerely,
A Concerned Friend

Dearza Concerned Friendza,

My, my, my. It sounds a like youz friend is going through some tough times. But youza good friend for wanting to find a wayz to helps. A good friend iza patient and a good friend listens. So, if you get youz friend to opens up, listen and validate theirs feelings, but no need to pass youz own judgments on the situation. Let your friend a know that you are a there, and whens they are ready, they will a talk to you.

XO,
Ms. Catara
