

Infants & Toddlers

a letter to families

Teachers need to know how to make your child feel as comfortable and happy as possible in school. Please share your special knowledge of your child with us to help him adjust as easily and harmoniously as possible. Just fill in the form and return it to your child's teacher.

2. When your child seems worried when meeting strangers, are there some special words you say, or special actions you do, to help him relax and get used to the "new" folks more easily?

3. When you need to go to a new place, are there special toys you take along with you that you know your child will play happily with? _____

4. Does your child have "pet names" that he loves to be called, whether in English or another language, that help reassure him that he is well loved? _____

5. Do you have any special routines you can share with us that your child is used to? For example, some infants and toddlers like to have their bibs put on first and then "duck" their heads under the high-chair tray table that you pull down. _____
