

GUIDELINES

Historical Figure Blog

You're reading and researching is now complete. I hope you took good notes! It is now time to put yourself in that person's shoes. You'll be using the information you have gathered about your historical figure to write two blogs from his/her point of view. I want you to become the person that you've studied and read about. You will be writing these two blogs from different important points in the life of your historical figure's life. For your final blog, you'll be writing a blog from your own point of view.

Blog #1: Early life: What can you tell readers about your early life?

Ideas you may want to include:

- Where were you born?
- What is your family history?
- What are your personality traits/characteristics?
- How did your early life affect the person you became later in life?

Blog #2: As the person matures: As you got older, what kind of person were you? What did you do?

Ideas you may want to include:

- What is his/her contribution?
- Did the person invent something?
- Did the person discover something?
- Was the person a good leader?

Blog #3: Modern-day connection: Learning about _____ was important because _____.

Ideas you may want to include:

- What is the most notable thing to remember about this person?
- How do we continue to benefit from this person?
- Has this person inspired you in any way? Explain.
