Italic type slants to the side. It tells readers a word is extra important and/or has special meaning.

Italic print helps the reader know the word is very important.

Animals often survive in unexpected ways. Sometimes even big animals like the rhinoceros need a little help. When an animal pairs up with a different kind of animal or plant for help, it is called a symbiotic relationship. Every day, countless animals work together in unique ways.