

"Ode to Pablo's Tennis Shoes"

Gary Soto

They wait under Pablo's bed,
Rain-beaten, sun-beaten,
A scuff of green
At their tips
From when he fell
In the school yard.
He fell leaping for a football
That sailed his way.
But Pablo fell and got up,
Green on his shoes,
With the football
Out of reach.

Now it's night.

Pablo is in bed listening

To his mother laughing

to the Mexican novelas on TV.

His shoes, twin pets

That snuggle his toes,

Are under the bed.

He should have bathed,

But he didn't.

(Dirt rolls from his palm,

Blades of grass

Tumble from his hair.)

He wants to be Like his shoes. A little dirty From the road. A little worn From racing to the drinking fountain A hundred times in one day. It takes water To make him go, And his shoes to get him There. He loves his shoes, Cloth like a sail. Rubber like A lifeboat on rough sea. Pablo is tired. Sinking into the mattress. His eyes sting from Grass and long words in books. He needs eight hours Of sleep To cool his shoes. The tongues hanging Out, exhausted.
