3. Teachers meet independent reading needs.

Educators easily track reading progress by school, class, group, and student. Instant, data-driven reports help inform instruction. Teachers know what progress students have made and when to intervene.

Proven to improve reading skills

The Stanford Achievement Test, Ninth Edition compares each student's performance on the test to the performance of a representative sample of public school students of the same age and grade. In a 2004 study by Block and Mangieri, third, fourth and fifth-grade students who used Scholastic Reading Counts! revealed statistically higher scores on the Stanford Nine test in vocabulary and reading comprehension than the control group of students. This was true for all students regardless of ability level, ethnicity, or gender.

Scholastic Reading Counts! Enterprise Edition

If your school is making a strategic investment in reading, Scholastic Reading Counts! helps you meet literacy goals for all students.

The best choice to measure reading progress.

Scholastic Reading Inventory

Scholastic Reading Inventory (SRI) is a research-based, computer-adaptive assessment for ages 5–18 that allows educators to quickly and accurately assess reading comprehension over the course of a student's education. SRI helps inform instruction and match students to text using the Lexile Framework® for Reading. This assessment is used to set growth goals, monitor progress, forecast performance, and help place students at the best level in a reading program so they will read with success.

Scholastic Reading Inventory provides the right critical components to help raise reading achievement:

Immediate, actionable data

SRI provides performance data that can be managed at school, classroom, and student levels.

Cost-effective

With licenses that are reusable year to year and unlimited access to tests throughout the year, SRI is the least expensive, yet most powerful, assessment on the market today.

Fast and easy to administer

Entirely computer-based, SRI reading assessment is administered in as little as 20 minutes per student, allowing consistent, immediate, and timely assessment throughout the academic year.

Scalable, computer-adaptive assessment solutions provide actionable data to support:

- Universal Screening
- Instructional Placement
- Progress Monitoring

1. Student selects areas of reading interest.

2. Student spends approximately 20 minutes taking the test.
