

WYOMING: Jackson Hole Activity

PIKA BOO

The pika is a small member of the rabbit family found high in the mountains of places like the Grand Tetons. To survive in their alpine environments, pikas collect and store stacks of hay under rocks. A pika's haystacks can grow to be three feet in diameter!

Color in the picture of the pika in its natural environment.

