IT'S ALIVE!

HEY THERE, IT'S TURFMUTT! Living landscapes contain grass, trees, and other plants that help protect the planet. Just like me and Water Warrior, they stand up against powerful bad guys out to harm the environment. Learn the difference between living and nonliving landscapes so you too can become a backyard superhero and stop eco-villains.

KNOW THE DIFFERENCE

1. Draw a green circle around parts of the town's living landscape: trees, grass, bushes, and gardens.
2. Draw a red circle around parts of the town's nonliving landscape: paved streets, sidewalks, and parking lots.
